HONESTY SELLS

BEHIND THE WORK

I WRITE SALES PAGES FOR HERBAL TEAS. THERE'S ONE WORD I WILL NEVER WRITE.

HONESTY SELLS

THE WORD

Cure.

Not in a headline. Not in a caption. Not in a video.

REASON 1 · THE RULES

It breaks the rules for herbal products.

NAFDAC's advertising rules bar herbal products from being advertised as a cure for the diseases on their list.

It also puts your ad account at risk.

NAFDAC Herbal Medicine and Related Products Advertisement Regulations, 2019.

REASON 2 · TRUST

Buyers have heard “cure” too many times.

The louder the promise, the less they believe it.

Overclaiming can win one sale. It loses the second.

WHAT I WRITE INSTEAD

Specific, true, provable

- 1 What real buyers report, in their own words
- 2 The NAFDAC number, printed where buyers can check it
- 3 A clear money back guarantee

COACHES, THIS IS YOURS TOO

"Guaranteed results" is your
"cure".

Promise what you control: the classes, the support, the refund.

Let your students' own words carry the results.

HONESTY SELLS LONGER

Sell the truth, loudly.

Follow for more from inside real sales pages.

Send this to a coach who promises too much.
