WHAT I CHANGED ON A SALES PAGE, AND WHY.

A herbal tea page I rebuilt this September. Decisions, not promises.

PAGE REBUILD

THE PAGE

Gluvera: a herbal tea sales page on 7o4stores.

I wrote it and I built it. Here are 7 changes and the reason behind each.

No made up results. Just the decisions.

01

CHANGE 1 OF 7

15 SCREENSHOTS BECAME 3 SLIDERS

BEFORE

15 testimonial screenshots stacked one after another.

WHY I CHANGED IT

Nobody scrolls through 15 images on a phone. Three moving sliders keep the proof in view and the page short.

02

CHANGE 2 OF 7

A BUTTON THAT FOLLOWS YOU

BEFORE

The sticky order bar waited before it showed up.

WHY I CHANGED IT

Now it stays on screen from the first scroll.
When someone decides, the button is under their thumb.

03

CHANGE 3 OF 7
A BUTTON AFTER EVERY PROOF

BEFORE

Long stretches of proof with no button after them.

WHY I CHANGED IT

People decide right after they see proof. Now there's a button after each of the 3 proof sliders.

04

CHANGE 4 OF 7

BUTTONS THAT FINISH THE SENTENCE

BEFORE

Every button said the same thing.

WHY I CHANGED IT

Now the words match the section: "See My Gluvera Options", "Choose My Morning Pack".

05

CHANGE 5 OF 7
A COMPARISON THAT COMPARES

BEFORE

Rows every seller can claim, like money back and pay on delivery.

WHY I CHANGED IT

A comparison only helps where you're different. Those rows went. The rows only this product can claim stayed.

06

CHANGE 6 OF 7
60 DAYS BECAME 90

BEFORE

A 60 day money back guarantee.

WHY I CHANGED IT

Now 90 days. A longer guarantee lowers the buyer's risk, and says you expect the product to deliver.

07

CHANGE 7 OF 7
FAITH LEFT ALONE

BEFORE

A line that listed prayer as something that had failed.

WHY I CHANGED IT

Removed. Never make a Nigerian buyer choose between your product and their faith.
